Privacy Policy

1. It is the policy of the Haywood County Beekeeper's Chapter (HCBC) to protect the confidentiality of our guests, and to tell you that any information we may collect is solely for internal use.
2. The host server automatically recognizes no information about the domain, or email address of the visitor to our web site.
3. HCBC only collects data that our website visitors provide to us within one of the various website contact methods: email or contact forms. This information may help us improve our website, tell individuals about site updates, or aid in connecting visitors with external web links.
4. When you supply HCBC with your personal information you may receive periodic mailings from us about bees, services, or bee events.
5. Should you wish to suspend receipt of any future mailings, let us know by filling out our contact form and tell us that you no longer wish to receive any future emails. We will remove your name from our mailing list as quickly as possible.
6. If you believe that HCBC has not complied with this online privacy policy, about your personal information, you may contact us by email pointing out your concerns.
7. In your email, please describe in detail the ways in which you feel the HCBC online privacy policy is not complying. We will research this matter quickly.
8. HCBC is not responsible for the content or privacy practices of any non-HCBC web sites to which hcbes.org or hcbes.com may provide a hyperlink.
